

GARDENERS CHECKLIST

1. Prune roses if you haven't already. When in doubt, check with your nurseryman to learn the right way to go about it.
2. Shop nurseries for camellias in bloom this month. You can stretch the camellia season by planting early, mid-season and late-blooming varieties.
3. A small-garden alternative to planting several varieties of peach to get early and late peaches is to plant three different varieties in a single hole. Ask a C.A.N. Nurseryman about such a method.
4. Want a tree that lends just the right accent to the garden? Try an olive—it's typical California too! Its gray foliage will be appreciated even where weather limits its ability to bear fruit.
5. Plant grapes now while they are dormant. Also raspberries and blackberries. Be sure and get the varieties best suited to your own area.

HAHN URGES STRONGER NARCOTICS PENALTIES

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn this week urged the Board of Supervisors to support a program for extra strict enforcement of anti-narcotics laws and called for stronger penalties against convicted dope peddlers.

"We certainly need an all-out campaign against narcotics, which is becoming one of the worst problems in Los Angeles County," he declared.

Supervisor Hahn stated that he was shocked over the recent arrest of 30 teen age high school students in the south-west section of the county.

"Unfortunately, the public doesn't seem to be doing much about it. Almost every day we read about teen agers being arrested for violation of narcotics laws, but the public just seems to shrug it off," he declared.

AT HIS SUGGESTION, Chairman Frank G. Bonelli will discuss the problem with members of the State Legislature and will report back to the Board of Supervisors on a number of anti-narcotics bills which have been introduced in Sacramento.

Supervisor Hahn reminded the Board of Supervisors that two years ago he secured passage of a motion instructing the probation officer, the chief administrative officer, the sheriff and the presiding judge of the Juvenile Court to work out a program for the treatment of teen age narcotics addicts. On his motion, the clerk of the Board of Supervisors was instructed to find out what had happened to the study, since no report had been submitted to the Board of Supervisors.

Ray W. Pett In New Post In Torrance

Appointment of Ray W. Pett as superintendent of engineering and maintenance at the Torrance Works of U.S. Steel's Columbia-Geneva Steel Division was announced recently by D. W. Lasell, general superintendent.

Pett, formerly superintendent of U. S. Steel's Keigley Quarry at Payson, Utah, succeeds William T. Ayers, who recently was transferred to Columbia-Geneva's Pittsburg, Calif., works as assistant to the general superintendent.

A native of Utah, Pett was born at Bingham and started with U.S. Steel as a construction engineer at Geneva Works in 1947 following his graduation from the University of Wisconsin with a B.S. degree in civil engineering. He has also completed an advanced management training course at the University of Washington. He was appointed engineering stone quarries in 1950, and in 1953, was named superintendent of Keigley Quarry.

Active in church and community affairs, Pett is past president of the Payson Lions Club. He has also served as vice president and member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of that community and as a member of the Payson Planning Board. He is a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers and the Central Utah Assn. of Engineers.

HIGH CONSUMPTION
Washington — A 1000 horsepower airplane engine will consume about 100 gallons of high-test gasoline per hour when it is operated at full throttle.
